Supported living for adults with autism spectrum conditions

Barnabas is a supported living service providing people with autism the opportunity to have their own flat in the heart of Hackney in East London, where they can enjoy their own space, learn skills and develop their independence with the assurance of having on hand support from a caring and skilled staff team, 24 hours a day.

The service is based in a refurbished townhouse, located in a quiet area of Hackney. It is close to Homerton Overground station and buses.

The townhouse consists of four self-contained, one-bedroom flats. There is also an enclosed courtyard at the back, which staff and tenants use for barbeques and other social gatherings.

Barnabas is run by Outward, a north east London charity. For over 40 years, Outward has been providing high-quality support and care services to people in London.

About Barnabas

Barnabas provides a specialist service for adults with autism spectrum conditions and learning disabilities, including those who require positive behaviour support (PBS). Support is provided one to one so people who require high levels of support throughout the day (and overnight) seven days a week, can lead the lives they wish.

A fully-trained staff team will be on hand to provide high-quality support and care, incorporating the latest innovative techniques alongside positive behaviour support plans tailored to each tenant.

Staff will provide support with key life skills, such as cooking and communications, to increase independency and to enhance quality of life. All the work will be delivered in a friendly, homely environment, suitable for those with good mobility.

People will be encouraged to attend college and use services in the local area. The service is part of the local community and staff will support people to be part of it too.
